

JONATHAN COLMER

Department of Economics, University of Virginia
Charlottesville, Virginia 22904
☎: 434-924-3525
✉: j.colmer@virginia.edu

Personal

Date of Birth: 11 March 1989
Marital Status: Married to Naomi Colmer
Children: Grace Elizabeth Colmer (10 March 2015)
Citizenship: British

Professional Experience

POSITIONS

Assistant Professor of Economics, University of Virginia 08/2016 - present

AFFILIATIONS

Research Associate, Centre for Economic Performance 06/2016 - present
Research Affiliate, International Growth Centre 05/2016 - present

Fields of Interest

Environmental Economics, Development Economics,
Public Economics, Labor Economics, International Trade.

Education

Ph.D., London School of Economics 10/2011 - 06/2016

Supervisors: Robin Burgess and John Van Reenen
Examining Committee: Dave Donaldson and Vernon Henderson

Visiting Ph.D. student, Department of Economics, MIT 07/2015
Visiting Ph.D. student, Department of Economics, UCSB 09/2013 - 12/2013

MSc Economics (with Distinction), University of Exeter 10/2010 - 09/2011
BA(Hons) Economics (First Class), University of Exeter 10/2007 - 06/2010

Working Papers

“Weather, Labour Reallocation, and Industrial Production: Evidence from India”

“Parental Income Uncertainty, Child Labour, and Human Capital Accumulation” under review

“Consumption Smoothing and the Welfare Cost of Uncertainty” with Yonas Alem (Gothenburg) under review

Selected Work In Progress “Income Shocks and the Opportunity Cost of Voting” with Teevrat Garg (UCSD) and Sebastian Axbard (QMUL)

“Evaluating the European Union Emissions Trading Scheme: Evidence from French Manufacturing Plants”, with Ralf Martin (Imperial), Mirabelle Muûls (Imperial), and Ulrich Wagner (Mannheim)

“Additionality and the Clean Development Mechanism: Evidence from India”, with Raphael Calel (Georgetown), Antoine Dechezleprêtre (LSE), Caterina Gennaioli (LSE), Matthieu Glachant (Paris MINES), and Anna Schröder (LSE)

“The Transmission of Localized Productivity Shocks in a Globalized World”, with Ralf Martin (Imperial), Mirabelle Muûls (Imperial), and Ulrich Wagner (Mannheim)

Teaching UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

ECON8310 Public Economics, PhD Spring 2016
ECON3720 Econometrics, Undergraduate Fall 2016

LONDON SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS

EC454 Development Economics, Graduate 10/2015 - 06/2016
EC428 Development Economics, Graduate 10/2014 - 06/2016
EC475 Quantitative Economics, Graduate 10/2014 - 06/2016

Honors, Awards and Fellowships The Bagri Fellowship 2015

LSE Fellowship 2014-2016

The FEEM Award (EEA Young Economist Prize) 2013

The Grantham Foundation PhD Fellowship 2011-2014

Seminars and Conferences 2016 – NBER EEE Summer Institute; UC Santa Cruz, Department of Economics; University of Virginia, Department of Economics; University of Bristol, Department of Economics; Imperial College London, Business School; University of British Columbia, Department of Economics.

2015 – Oxford University, Department of Economics; St. Andrews University, Department of Economics; North Eastern Universities Development Consortium (NEUDC) Conference, Brown University; CEPR Annual Symposium on Development Economics; The World Bank; Association for Environmental and Resource Economics (AERE) Annual Meeting; Spatial Economics Research Centre (SERC) Annual Meeting; University of Barcelona, Department of Economics; Royal Economic Society Annual Meeting; Reading University, Department of Economics; University of Nottingham, Department of Economics; American Economic Association Annual Meeting.

Professional Service Referee for American Economic Journal: Applied Economics, Journal of Environmental Economics and Management, Journal of Development Economics, Journal of Population Economics, Oxford Review of Economic Policy

References Available Upon Request